

MANAGED DOCUMENT REVIEW

More accurate. More scalable. More predictable.

Have complete confidence in your document review

When faced with litigation, arbitration or due diligence, there are many unknowns. Your document review process shouldn't be one of them. Corporations and law firms around the world choose Integreon as their go-to Managed Document Review (MDR) partner for a number of good reasons:

Global Scale

With more than 3,000 employees in the U.S., UK and Asia/Pacific, including native speakers of 75+ languages, we can handle any size MDR project, anywhere. We can deploy onshore, offshore or multi-shore resources using a "follow the sun" model to meet your deadline and budget needs.

Privacy and Security

Integreon goes above and beyond to safeguard the privacy and security of your data. All reviewers undergo exhaustive background checks, with periodic updates. We offer Integreon Secure Review which features an isolated AWS environment with URL allow-listing, working hours restrictions, email domain and contact restrictions, dedicated project email, and expanded reporting options. Integreon offers Session Guardian as an optional add-on which provides the extra layer of end-point security missing from most remote environments including:

- Eyes-only security using biometric AI
- Ability to prevent screen sharing, screenshots, and the use of key logging software
- Optional watermarks across users' computer screens
- Restricted applications and IP address authentication

Consistent Quality

With more than 20 years' experience, we have a proven process for ensuring accurate, reliable results. Our dedicated quality control (QC) team provides three levels of controls and checks to ensure guaranteed accuracy and consistency, regardless of the project type or size.

Predictable Cost

Flexible pricing options such as per doc and blended hourly. Over the course of thousands of MDR engagements for clients worldwide, we have the experience required to accurately predict project scope and the resources required to get the job done. With Integreon, you avoid costly surprises.

Deep Expertise

Integreon's document review professionals have deep subject matter expertise in a wide range of specialized fields for jurisdictions worldwide. They understand the nuances of specific regulations and industries, enhancing their ability to capture all relevant documents.

Dedicated Project Team

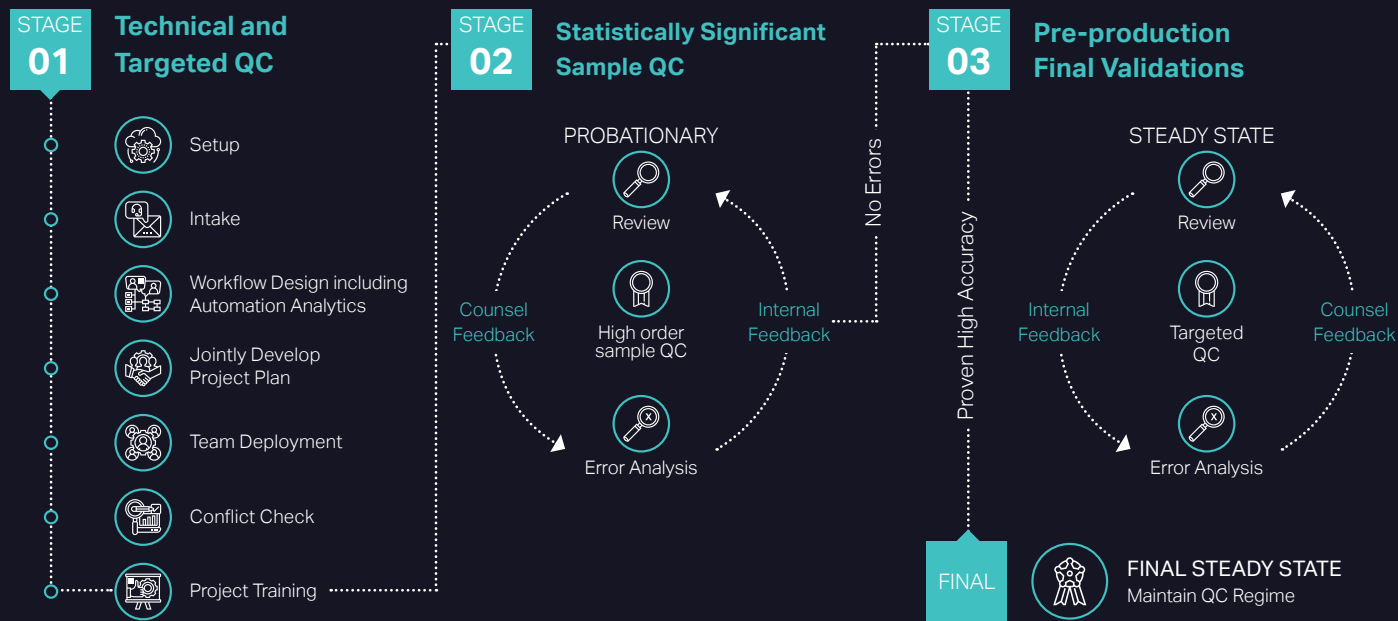

You work with a dedicated Integreon Project Manager and MDR team that learns your business and priorities. This helps ensure consistency, accuracy and efficiency, saving you time and money. Regular reviews ensure your Integreon team is aligned with your goals.

Flexibility

We tailor every engagement to meet the specific needs of each client. Our review teams are familiar and comfortable with advanced analytics features such as email threading, predictive coding, and continuous active learning. We can work with your in-house e-discovery/document review platform or leverage our partnerships with leading technology vendors to provide a complete outsource solution.
